

THIS GAME IS GOOD INSIDE OR OUTSIDE!

MORE FUN FOR FAMILIES WHO HAVE CABIN FEVER!

CAST YOUR VOTE!

Just like the E-L-E-C-T-I-O-N run game, one person is the "Secretary of State" and everyone else stands an equal distance away from him or her. The Secretary hides a small object in their hand and then asks the other kids to guess which hand has the object inside of it. "Anyone voting that my right hand has something in it, raise your hand!" If they are correct, they step forward. This is repeated until one person gets close enough to the Secretary to tag them, and then they become the Secretary. It is important to exercise the right to vote, even if you don't always vote for the winner! Don't forget that Louisiana's Secretary of State does many things, including overseeing our state's elections and Louisiana's Old State Capitol!
